Harmonic Framework:

Slap 19 is primarily based around the notes found in the Arabic form of maqam Rast. Here, all microtonal pitches (i.e. scale-degrees 3 [mi] and 7 [ti]) have been set to exact quartertones; this results in the piece sounding neither explicitly 'major' nor 'minor' once harmonized (particularly to the Western ear). Players are invited, however, to adjust the tuning/placement of the microtones according to their personal/music-cultural preference.

Additional Microtones Needed (Fretboard Diagram):

– Red lines indicate the positions of additional fretlets needed.

Special Techniques:

Slap! – Perform using 'slap' technique (as common to electric bass guitar); whether specific notes are slapped (with thumb, p) or plucked (with index finger, i) under this direction is up to the performer.
